Mayor's Advice Did It

An interesting case came up for hearing before Justice Pinkney on Thursday night, when W. C. Briggs, of Macleod, appeared to answer the charge of having violated License By-Law 34 of the Town of Blairmore. This by-law required that non-resident agents offering for sale or selling oil stocks within the town limits must take out a license.

Mr. Briggs was known to have endeavored to place stock with various parties in Blairmore, therefore action was taken by the Secretary-Treasurer.

Mr. Briggs pleaded "not guilty" whereupon L. H. Putnam, as Solicitor for the Town, called witnesses, who stated that Mr. Briggs did endeavor to dispose of stock to them.

At the request of Mr. Briggs, the secretary-treasurer and the Mayor were called upon to give evidence. Mr. Hisecock stated that a notice was given at a regular meeting of the town council on June 8th that a by-law would be introduced at the next regular meeting of the council for the purpose of arranging license fees for transient traders in oil stocks, and that following such notice of motion the council, after considering the necessity for immediate provision being made, immediately undertook to give said by-law its first, second and third readings, and that the by-law was done and passed at said meeting of June 8th. The minutes of said meeting were read and approved at the next regular meeting of the council without a dissenting voice, and were endorsed by the mayor.

On being questioned by Solicitor Hunter, Mr. Hisecock stated that no special motion was put through to cancel the notice given.

Mayor Lyon was next called upon. He stated that Mr. Briggs had approached him on August 5th and asked regarding license. Mr. Lyon informed him that there was a town by-law requiring him to take out a license, but that he (Mayor Lyon) questioned the right of the council to enact such a by-law. He also felt that the by-law was not put through in a legal manner. He informed Mr. Briggs that he might be perfectly safe in transacting business without taking out a license. Mr. Lyon, on being questioned by Solicitor Hunter as to his reasons for feeling that the by-law was not legally passed, stated that in the first place such a by-law required a notice of motion at the meeting preceding its first reading, and that the final reading required the third meeting to make the by-law effective.

Mr. Putnam quoted from the Town's Act to the effect that on the unanimous consent of the council at a regular meeting a by-law may be introduced and passed.

After summing up the case a fine of $2.00 and costs was imposed.

Mr. Briggs informed the court that he intended to appeal the case.

A case somewhat similar to the above came up for hearing at Coleman this week and was dismissed.

Death of George Bradley

George Bradley, one of the old-timers of the Crows' Nest Pass, and a former resident of Blairmore, passed to his eternal reward at Sentinel on Monday of this week, following a prolonged illness. Mr. Bradley was stricken with paralysis about two months ago, from which he failed to obtain relief. He was a native of Bruce County, Ontario, and came to Alberta about fourteen years ago. He leaves a wife, one son and three daughters to mourn his loss. Interment took place at Coleman on Wednesday afternoon and was largely attended. Rev. D. Watkins-Jones officiated.

How the World Uses Coal

According to the last official census, the production of coal in the whole world may be estimated for 1913 at 2,550,000,000 tons, compared with 1,245,000,000 tons in 1912; 1,184,000,000 tons in 1911 and 900,000,000 tons in 1910. Of this amount the United States mined about 4 per cent, Germany and England about 21 per cent each, with France, Russia, Belgium, Austria, Hungary and Holland following in order.

The European consumption of coal last year is estimated to have been 550,000,000 tons, divided among the following industries: In mining, 38,000,000 tons; metallurgy, 195,500,000 tons; railways 55,000,000 tons; steamships, 55,000,000 tons; gas and electric lighting, 41,000,000 tons; industry, 85,500,000 tons. These figures show that it is metallurgy, industry and domestic consumption which require the largest quantities of coal—Coal Mining Magazine.

Death of Mrs. Lew Thorne

Word was received by wire on Friday of the death of Katherine, beloved wife of Lew Thorne, at the age of 46 years, which occurred at San Francisco, California, on July 17th. Mrs. Thorne had been a sufferer from bright's disease for a period of eighteen months, the first symptoms of the malady appearing during her residence in Blairmore. In September last Mrs. Thorne moved down to California in the hope of getting relief, but was confined to her bed almost continually until the time of her death. Her husband was at Fernis, British Columbia, when word reached him of her demise. He, with his son, immediately set out for San Francisco, reaching there three days afterwards. The following is clipped from the San Francisco Examiner.

"Thorne (Herdon)—In this city, July 17, Katherine, beloved wife of Lew Thorne and loving mother of Zoe Herndon and Mrs. Inez Devlin, a native of San Francisco, Cal., aged 46 years.

Austrian Miner

Acquitted at Macleod

Macleod, Alta., Aug. 1.—An attempt to take a terrible revenge on a successful rival was suggested by the Crown in the District Court on Wednesday, when Nick Keylock, an Austrian miner of Bellevue, was acquitted by His Honor Judge McNeill on a serious charge of dynamiting a shack belonging to another miner named Toobitz.

From the evidence given it appeared that for several months accused was living with a married woman named Rippien, whose husband is at present serving a sentence for perjury, but Toobitz successfully induced her to leave accused and reside with him. Shortly after the change of residence was made, a charge of dynamite was exploded on the window ledge of Toobitz's shack, which carried away the window and part of the wall, and the suggestion of the Crown was that this deed was committed by accused in his desire for revenge on his successful rival.

The evidence of Toobitz and Mrs. Rippien, however, failed to conclusively bring home the guilt to Keylock, and L. H. Putnam of Blairmore, who appeared for the defence, was successful in keeping out an incriminating statement made by accused to Corporal Meade, of the R. N. W. M. P. In discharging accused his Honor intimated that although the evidence was not sufficient to convict, there was a grave suspicion against him.

W. M. Campbell, K. C., appeared for the Crown. L. H. Putnam, of Blairmore, appeared for the accused.

Charles Stannage, formerly in the employ of the Rocky Mountain Cement Co., at Blairmore, has accepted a good position with the Kent Mills, and will travel in their interests.

Messrs. J. Parsons and Charles Stannage have taken action against the Rocky Mountain Cement Co. for the recovery of advance wages in lieu of discharge without sufficient notice. The case came up on Tuesday before Justice Gresham and was adjourned to Monday next when it is expected some official of the Company will be present from Calgary.

Jury Returns Verdict

The following verdict was returned by the jury empanelled to enquire into the cause of the death of Agostino Lazzari and Plesenti Mellorino on Wednesday:

"That Agostino Lazzari and Plesenti Mellorino did meet their death on the 27th day of July, 1914, in No. 2 mine of the West Canadian Collieries, Bellevue, in pillar No. 52, death being caused by a fall of top coal.

We, the jury, are of the opinion that the Coal Mines Act has not been strictly adhered to, and that in future Section III., clause 8, of said act be carried out in full.

Riders—That no pit-boss be allowed to allow fire-bosses more places or pillars than he can justly attend to with safety to the men under his charge, and we are further of the opinion that if a shot had been placed in the top coal this accident would not have occurred.

In witness whereof, the Coroner has hereunto set his hand and seal and the jury have hereunto set their hands this fifth day of August, 1914.

Britain's Formal Declaration of War

London, Aug. 3.—The British foreign office has issued the following statement: "Owing to the summary rejection by the German government of the request made by His Britannic Majesty's government that the neutrality of Belgium should be respected, his majesty's ambassador at Berlin has received his passport and his majesty's government has declared to the German government that a state of war exists between Great Britain and Germany from 11 o'clock p. m., Aug. 4.

THE KING'S MESSAGE TO CANADA

Ottawa, Aug. 4.—The Duke of Connaught received the following message from His Highness Louis Mountbatten, colonial secretary, late this afternoon:

"Please communicate to your ministers the following message from His Majesty the King: 'I desire to express to my people of the overseas dominions with what appreciation and pride I have received the messages from their respective governments during the last few days. These generous assurances of their fullest support recalled to me the anxious self-sacrificing help given by them in the past to the mother country. I shall be strengthened in the discharge of the great responsibilities which rest upon me by the confident belief that in this time of trial my empire will stand united, calm, resolute, trusting in God and George.'

Farwell at Frank

A pleasant evening was spent in the Methodist church at Frank on Tuesday last, occasioned by Mrs. J. E. Wilcox leaving Frank for her new home at Commerce. A large number of friends turned out to wish Mrs. Wilcox every good fortune in her new home. After games and light refreshments, Mr. Howe in a few choice words expressed the feelings of the gathering, at their regret at Mrs. Wilcox's departure. Mr. Howe presented her with a silver bowl and cream jug as a token of the high esteem in which she is held by the Sunday school and church. The following address was also presented to Mrs. Wilcox:

"Dear Mrs. Wilcox:—We have gathered here tonight to express to you our regret at your departure from us. We cannot say here how much the church and Sunday school owe to you, for your untiring support and sympathy not only when all was prosperous, or when the church had many friends, but as well when you were the only one to assist. We appreciate the amount of time and work you have given to the building up of this cause. The Sunday school at the present time will miss you much. As we look over the roll for years back we find that all the time you have scarcely missed a Sunday in the most discouraging work of the church as well as the most important. We trust that where you are going you may find a similar field for activity and pray God's richest blessing may rest on you and your family. We now ask you to accept from us this small token of our appreciation, trusting that it may remind you of Frank church and the boys and girls whom you have helped to become better men and women through your teaching.

Signed on behalf of congregation and Sunday school.

W. T. Young, Pastor.
After a few words by the Rev. Mr. Young, expressing regret at Mrs. Wilcox's departure and wishing her best of luck in her new home an enjoyable evening was brought to a close by singing "Blest be the tie that binds."

Owed His Rise to Timidity

The chief official of the Roman Catholic church in Germany, Cardinal Kopp, who died recently at Tropic, Silesia, was a telegraph operator on the Hanoverian States Railway at the age of 20 and so poorly was he paid that he was often in arrears with his room and lodgings. An unexpected bonus of $15 secured a fortune to him.

At the end of a year's apprenticeship he was to have joined the regular staff but had not the supervisor of the telegraph office. He was the following confidential report, which has just been published: "Telegraph Clerk George Kopp has made earnest endeavors to become an efficient operator, but his timid and diffident character has led him to the public service. He lacks force, confidence, presence of mind and quickness of decision. He is coping with emergencies. On the other hand, Kopp has shown considerable industry and zeal. He is intellectually somewhat above the average, so that I can confidently recommend him for administrative work at the same time I suggest that his definite appointment be postponed for another two months."

Thus, "damned with faint praise," Kopp never got his appointment at all, and eventually he was dismissed for being too timid.

Reducing the Cost of Living Postmaster-General Burleson's latest plan to develop the business of the parcel post is a logical carrying-out of one of the major purposes of the government, the undertaking of the carriage of packages.

The parcel post justified itself against lobbied opposition by the promise that it would reduce the cost of living. It was urged that housekeepers could get their poultry, butter and other farm produce directly from the farmer, cutting the profits of the middlemen that intervene between the producer and the consumer.

This is precisely the way it has worked out—where it has been fully introduced. The farmer gets a better price for his produce, the consumer gets a better price for his goods, and the middleman gets a better price for his services. An agency has been set up to bring the producer and the consumer in touch with each other, to open up these channels of direct trade and to round up city customers for the farmers.

This is what is proposed in the plan to be tried in the city where the post offices are to be bureaus of information, supplying city people with lists of the names and addresses of farmers who are prepared to supply produce direct to the consumer. It is the plan to work out this plan, but it ought to work to the mutual advantage of the farmer and the city dweller.

The port of Halifax is now on a war basis. The precautions taken include the blocking of the eastern passage by the sinking of a schooner across the waterway. COSTLY TREATMENT

"I was troubled with constipation and indigestion and spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment," writes C. H. Hines, of Whitlow, Ark. "I went to a St. Louis hospital, also to a hospital in New Orleans, but no cure was effected. On returning home I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and worked right along. I used them for some time and am now all right." Sold by all dealers.

King William Rufus Ebenzer mounted a big white horse on Saturday to accompany some-lady riders to Race Horse Creek. We regret that our camera was out of commission at that particular time for a many good pictures were promised. Elsewhere states that the roads are far too narrow in many places, and that his conveyer, who alone possessed intelligence, felt obliged at times to straddle the valleys in order to avoid collision with small trees and fallen timbers. But fallen timbers would not interfere with the progress of his steed, whose knees had already become hardened from bumps against the boulders.

20,000,000 Men May Fight 14,000,000 in The World's War

Thirty-four million men may be drawn into the greatest war of all times—the war that started within the last twenty-four hours. Greater than all the armies and navies ever assembled will be those called on in case the countries which are parties to the triple entente and the triple alliance lock in a death struggle over the embroiled started by Austria and Serbia. If the entire military, naval and aerial strength were called into action—or if even a fair proportion of them were called on—the armies of past conflicts would appear puny by comparison.

Serbia is one of the little nations of the world. Her greatest possible army in war time could not number more than 300,000 men. This body would sink into insignificance compared with the tremendous armies which would be called on to smother Serbia if Russia, Great Britain and France, composing the triple entente took up the cause of Serbia. ADVERTISING turns over stocks rapidly, and therefore multiplies profits. This means that prices in a shop which advertises can be short rather than long.

Of this you may be sure: Prices in a shop which advertises are not MORE than in a shop which does not advertise. The chances are that they are oftentimes lower.

This, also, is generally true: You will find better goods, better values and better service in those shops which turn over their stocks rapidly. This means, as a general thing, shops which advertise.

A NOTE TO MERCHANTS

tioned both in peace strength and war footing. She has 1,200,000 men ready for war in times of peace, while her war footing reaches the staggering total of 5,000,000 men.

France has 720,000 for a peace guard and 4,000,000 as a war footing. Great Britain has 254,000 men carrying arms in times of peace and can increase this army to 800,400 when war breaks out.

The total armies of the triple entente number 2,264,500 in times of peace and the gigantic number of 9,809,400 in times of war. The same three countries have a combined force of 8,200,000 unorganized men of military age who could be drawn on in case of emergency. This including the armies of Serbia, would bring the total possible war strength of the triple entente up to the stupendous number of 20,000,000.

The total of the three countries comprising the triple alliance—Austria, Germany and Italy—while not so large, still are staggering. Germany has an army of 4,320,000 men. Austria and Italy have 2,000,000 each. This brings the total of the alliance up to 8,400,000. The same countries have an unorganized force of men of military age of 5,200,000. This means that the countries of the triple alliance could, in case of extreme necessity, throw 14,000,000 men on the field.

Besides these, Roumania, Bulgaria and Greece have armies totalling 1,000,000 men, and those nations might become involved in the war.

In naval strength the triple entente would be twice as strong as the triple alliance—both in numbers of ships and in sailors and marines. Of the triple entente, Great Britain leads with 260 ships of all kinds—battleships, coast defense ships, battle cruisers, protected cruisers, scouts, torpedo vessels, torpedo boat destroyers, torpedo boats and submarines. In battleships of the first class she has 55, which is 22 more than the greatest competitor, Germany. To man these ships, Britain has 127,000 men. France comes next with 377 ships and 60,500 men. Russia has 179 ships with 50,000 men. The total number of ships in the triple entente is 1,136, with 250,000 men.

Opposed to this vast fleet is Germany, with 312 ships and 66,700 men; Austria, with 114 ships and 17,000 men, and Italy, with 147 ships and 33,000 men, making a grand total of 573 ships and 117,000 men.

But these engines of warfare are not all. For the first time in any conflict of great proportions, aerial war craft will be brought into active use. Aeroplanes, sea-planes and dirigibles will be used almost as freely as ships on the seas.

Latest figures show that here again the triple entente is by far the stronger. This is the largely to the great number of air and sea-planes, with expert pilots that France has. She has 750 air and sea-planes, with 300 first class and 250 second class pilots. Next is Russia with 280 aeroplanes and many excellent pilots. Great Britain has 130 aero and sea-planes, with 60 first-class and 170 second class pilots.

Opposed to these air craft will be 700 operated by the nations of the triple alliance. Germany has 350 aeroplanes and sea-planes; Austria has 250 of both kinds and Italy has 200.

REMARKABLE CURE OF DYSENTERY

"I was attacked with dysentery about July 15th, and used the doctor's medicine and other remedies with no relief, only getting worse all the time. I was unable to do anything and my weight dropped from 145 to 125 pounds. I suffered for about two months when I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I used two bottles of it and it gave me permanent relief," writes B. W. Hill of Snow Hill, N.C. For sale by all dealers.

The English's Newest Colony
 The Rev. Dr. William S. Rainsford, who has spent two years among the wild men and beasts of East Africa, has just returned to England with the soil in England's newest colony. "It is not much different from that of the Canadian northwest."
 "Two or three crops a year can be raised. The soil is rich and grows from twelve to fifteen feet high in four months. No fertilizer is needed. The corn grows in a row. I have seen a gum tree grow ninety-eight feet high. The soil is so rich that one acre in 5,000 is properly tilted. This land will raise the best cotton in the world and the best coffee."

 "Give me two seats in the balance," said a man, stepping up to the official officer of the afternoon.
 "In the stall?" asked the ticket seller, fearing that she had misheard.
 "I said I wanted two seats in the balance," said the man.
 The ticket seller racked her brain trying to solve the puzzle, and finally, giving it up, she said she wanted.
 "On this sign above it says he wants two seats in the balance."
 "It says balance, 15 cents. I want two seats in the balance."
 Then the ticket seller understood.

There was only a thin partition between the car parlor and the taproom of the suburban hostelry, writes "H. J. Brown" in the Chicago Tribune. "If I could not hear what was being said, I could not help hearing what was being poured. A confidence about a certain woman's affairs was being discussed this afternoon. 'Well, to cut a long story short,' said the voice, which was probably that of the proprietor, 'I am going to set 'em 'in on a doorstep and leave 'em alone.' 'E must 'at tell asleep, and 'is not 'at proper to be 'ere. 'I am 'at would yer believe it, when 'e 'okes up there was 'is place 'in it.'"

A recent report of the London Eng. Y.M.C.A. showed that 60 per cent of all unmarried women were wage-earners. In London 520,481 women under middle age were typists and clerks and 111,232 engaged in dress trades.

Outrageous Fortune
Rastus was sorely wounded. From his face gore flowed in rivulets, and in the outer covering of his substantial head there were sundry gashes and open wounds. He lay the victim of a brutal assault.

The physician who treated him for his wounds was sympathetic. "Gentle," he said. "Somebody has beaten you up in a terrific manner. You must have been hit at least nine or ten times."

"Nine or ten?" said Rastus, who was still trembling. "I don't believe I was able to git out ob de way ob anything dat was throwed at me. I was too scared to move. I got out from it," suggested the doctor. "Hereafter you ought to stay far away from people who indulg in this sort of thing."

"Dar ain't no chance," Rastus objected gloomily. "You know, boss, I ain't got de price of no divoce."

SUFFERERS FROM

Liniments of No Avail—Must be Cured
Through the Blood

Why are there so many failures in the treatment of rheumatism? The answer is plain, many sufferers resigned to life of pain, despairing of a permanent cure!

But rheumatism defies any treatment that does not build up and purify the blood. The poisons of rheumatism are in the blood and it is only by purifying the blood that the disease can be fought successfully. If the blood is weak and impure, rheumatism cannot get a foothold. When it does, it is because the blood is weak and impure. So the first step is to build up and purify the blood. This can be done by taking a strong exercise, overcome the poisons alone. It must be strengthened and purified. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the best blood purifier and blood builder you can take. They will make new blood with every dose and promptly check further progress of the disease. They make the blood so pure and strong that it will leave no trace of rheumatism remains. Mr. R. J. Sinclair, "Goshen, N. S., says:—

with rheumatism. I was laid up for two months and could not walk and had "o's" in my joints. I was in a invalid's chair. My feet were badly swollen and my arms seemed to be paralyzed. I had been using doctor's medicine for a long time, but it did not seem to help me. I was told that I might finally find that the only thing that would cure me would be a change of my climate. At this time I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for a trial. I got a box and found that it was just what I needed for a while. I found they were helping me, and I got a further supply and they completely cured me, and I have not been sic. one day since. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from now on.

You can get these Pills from any dealer in medicines or by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Work of the Inventors

Manufacturers are almost daily in receipt of communications from inventors including patent specifications covering an invention aimed to improve his product. It is a mistake on the part of manufacturers to view such inventors as impostors. The position that "an outsider cannot know more than a business than ourselves" is a fallacy that has no place in modern industrial management. If it were necessary to prove that such a position is a fallacy through thousands of inventions could be cited whereby improvements, many revolutionary, in industrial processes and products were first conceived in the minds of men not even remotely connected with the industries most vitally affected and benefited, thereby—American Machinist.

Lightning Rods

A bulletin advocating the use of lightning rods on buildings has just been issued by the Ontario Association of Agricultural Engineers. Prof. W. H. Day, of the staff of the Ontario Agricultural College, is the author of the bulletin, which is the first of a series of investigations covering 13 years, that lightning rods are not protective against lightning strikes. The results, in Ontario in 1912 the efficiency of rods was 94% per cent. From 1913 to 1915 the efficiency was 90% per cent. Prof. Day found that in every rural building insured, 43 were not protected by rods, and that out of over 600 farm buildings struck by lightning only 3 rods were found. In this connection Prof. Day says that if rods should have been expected 43 if the rods were not good.

Records of lightning rods in Iowa are recorded as showing an efficiency of 88.7 per cent. and inspected rods of Michigan 92.5 per cent. and of 92.3 per cent. Records in Iowa show that for the eight years 1905-1913 the average efficiency of lightning rods in protecting cars and on rodded buildings was 90.7 per cent. The total lightning claims paid by all these companies, including the cost of lightning rods, was only $1,464.30—an increase of $10.15 per company per year. The average cost of lightning claims amounting to the total of $149,695.33, which is an average of $10.15 per company per year, and the number of unrodded buildings was the same as the rodded in Michigan where a company indures only rodged buildings which have been tagged in a risk of $5,175 was carried during four years and insurance claims arising from lightning strikes. This and other proofs demonstrate that Prof. Day are practical demonstrations of the properly installed are a protection. In giving directions for the installation it is reminded that lightning is electrical. Prof. Day asserts that rods are not necessary. The rods are not the building and that no insulators should be used. This method of attraction is the opposite to that first adopted when lightning rods were first used.

Sirius the Mighty

Writing in the London Times last week the effect upon our planet of the gigantic star Sirius was as near to us as our own sun. Mr. Scriven Belon says that the change that would overtake the earth if it were nearer than anything hitherto dreamed of in the heavens would be poised a brilliant globe twenty-five times larger than ours, its surface appearing as if by millions of miles into space gigantic fire rays and coronal streamers, bombarded by terrible heat, the earth itself would appear as a tiny speck, dissipated, its vegetation covering dried, its ocean basins turned into barren wastes, while rain would flow like rivers from the clouds; from us of Sirius the brightest of all stars, it is so great that its rays require eight and half years to reach us, notwithstanding that light travels 186,000 miles in one second.

The distance between the earth and Sirius through space at 1,000 miles a minute, "inn" and "Hotel!" The Saxon word 'inn,' taken in the present sense, was probably in use before the conquest, whereas the purely French word "hotel" as generally applied to "an inn of style and pretension," dates only from about the time when officers of the British army of occupation returned from Paris with enthusiastic accounts of theeurie's and a dozen other hosteleries of the Rue de Rivoli and the Rue St. Honoré which quite threw into the shade the modest inns offered by the average British inn of that period into the shade. At the commencement of the nineteenth century Frenchmen taught the London innkeeper the science of hotel keeping, and the Englishman had begun to return the compliment—Country Life.

“Yes, sir. That's why I'm back. I'm older now.”

Made the Match

During his first stay in Washington Chinese minister, Wu Ting Fang denied the wedding of the daughter of the Chinese minister to the American ambassador and said to one of the bridesmaids:

"When will it be your turn to be a bride?"

"I do not know," she answered. "I have never asked."

To the amiable Chinese minister and to one of a group of young men who were standing by him came the reply. "You must ask me." Would you not like to marry me?"

The girl replied, "I shall be most delighted."

Both the young woman and the young man naturally were somewhat surprised by Mr. Wu's pleasantry.

An unusual Government publication has recently been issued by the Dominion Parks Branch of the Department of the Interior. It consists of a small notebook booklet artistically bound in duplex leather with green paper and tied with an olive green cord. The lettering is embossed in gold in a very unique design which has been chosen for the cover. The latter is cut out so as to form a sort of frame and in this is inset a spray of Canadian Healer from the Rocky Mountain Park, the purple flowers of the heather against the wood-brown background making a very attractive color combination. The matter is set up in 10 point Caslon Old Style type and the booklet is illustrated throughout with vignettes of scenes in the Banff and Yoho Park printed in golden olive by the offset method. By this method, which has not so far been little used in Canada, the difficulty which formerly existed in printing black lines on anything but smooth-faced paper has been overcome. The process involves taking an impression from the plate on a cylinder covered with a blanket and then transferring or offsetting it to the paper which is carried round a third cylinder.

It will no doubt be a matter of surprise to many to learn that Canada possesses a heather of her own. This plant is not, as it has sometimes been called, a "poor relation" of the Scotch heather, but has a family connection and standing of its own well recognized by botanists, and is nearly allied to the heather of the British Isles. The booklet gives an interesting account of the locality from which the source was gathered, Simpson pass, about thirty miles south of Banff, and of some of the legends and stories connected with the heather in other lands. Its main purpose, however, is to call the attention of Canadians to the National Parks of the Dominion, not only to the attractions they offer to those who are able to visit them, but also to their value in the national life. Their commercial possibilities are shown as startling. It is pointed out that owing to the increasing modern taste for travel, striking scenery has become one of the most valuable sources of revenue a nation can possess. The tourist revenue of Switzerland per year is placed at 150 million dollars, that of France at 600 millions, that of Italy at over 100 million. The sum which Americans annually spend abroad is estimated at the enormous total of five hundred million dollars. It would appear, therefore, that the creation of national parks, which are one of the best means of attracting and providing for tourist travel, may well be considered as it is now being considered in the United States, as a "solid business proposition."

It is on other grounds, than the commercial, however, that the Parks lay claim to recognition. Chief of these is an aid to producing efficient citizens. These great natural reserves are reservoirs of vitality for the race. As an antidote to the life of over civilization and the complex life of modern cities, they offer the opportunity for life in the wilderness and the best sort of recreation when fresh air, sunshine and beautiful natural scenery are combined. The problem of the preservation of the vitality of the race is admitted by all as a vital one today, to be the first of all conservation problems and the value of parks, playgrounds recreation in this respect is each year given a larger place.

The educational and patriotic influence of the Parks is also touched upon as well as the work which the Dominion Parks Branch is doing in the preservation of native wild life in connection with the buffalo, elk, antelope, etc., as well as bird life. There is also pointed out the need for the creation of Historic Parks as a means of preservation for our historic sites, many of which we are allowing to disappear.

A new line of development which is worthy of consideration is suggested, viz. The provision of natural parks near our congested centres of population. All modern town planning makes provision for parks and playgrounds within the city itself, but while these are useful and necessary they provide means of recreation for a few hours at most. The national parks would reserve large areas where people would be free to go as far as they desired. Such parks would be, in reality, "people's estates" and would afford to the ordinary citizen many of the advantages which the man of wealth possess in his country estate. In the words of the booklet they would be "places where the poor could get a summer cottage or camp site for a seasonal rental, where boys and men could camp and fish and study nature, where the sick and delicate could find new sources in health in the great outdoors, by right of citizenship, with leave or hindrance of anyone."

There is still within easy reach of many of our large cities, land available for such a purpose which is either public domain or procurable at low cost. It would seem worth while considering the advice given Ambassador Bryce in Ottawa, before his return to England, namely, that the time to set aside public domain for the future needs of the people is now, not when the encroachments of the civilization have rendered this almost impossible.

Rod and Gun for August

The August number of Rod and Gun issued by W. J. Taylor Limited, Publisher, Woodstock, Ont., has appeared and is up to the usual standard of excellence maintained by this representative Canadian magazine of outdoor life. The cover cut is an attractive one and illustrates a big catch of tuna in Nova Scotia where the sport of catching the big fish with rod and line is growing in favor. The contents include many interesting stories and articles, among them another canoe story "To Moose Factory by Canoe" which is as far as the territory covered is concerned from a continuation of the account given in last month's issue of a Trip from Lake Temiskaming to Lake Abitibi. Bonycastle Dales gives a graphic description of "Wild Fowling with the Kwakiwits" and the issue includes stories of interest to the general reader as well as articles and departments containing special information for the sportsman.

Another Successful Year For Western Canada College

This well known residential and day school for boys at Calgary has just closed another successful year, the eleventh since it was declared open by the Hon. Chief Justice (McIntosh) (then premier) in 1903.

During this session the high standing in work and discipline, for which the college is so well known, has been vigorously maintained. The different departments of the college report marked progress. The installation of technical manual training marks another step forward. When the autumn term opens, this institution will have the very latest and best equipment for draughting and manual work. Arrangements are being made for a preparatory department for small boys.

Some years ago a separate gymnasium was equipped and a special instructor was engaged to give his whole time to physical training and proper discipline. Last year a well arranged shooting gallery was built for the special use of the cadet corps. These additions have won for the college the praise and friends of the Western Canada College boys. The results are noted in the testimony of the district commanding officer of the militia of Alberta. He declared the college cadet corps to be the best he had inspected and he did not except the militia.

The college continues its success in sending boys to the Universities; into business and the various leading lines of occupation. A Western Canada boy won the highest prize in graduating from the Royal Military College in June of the present year. This is a peculiar honor, for all the best residential schools send many of their best boys to this military college. This boy was for more than five years a scholar in Western Canada College. The results (in part) have come from the McGill University matriculation examinations, a Western Canada boy is still among more than 50 candidates from all over the world, another is 48th in the same examination.

Following the example of similar residential institutions, the college corporation seeks to remove from the confines of the city and build on their beautiful new property, some four miles out in the country. Unfortunately the continued financial stringency has compelled delay. Sketch plans, however, have been prepared for new buildings to be erected on the new site of 35 acres. Before these were drawn a number of the best residential schools in eastern Canada, the eastern United States and Great Britain were visited and studied.

The college needs these improvements, for it is the largest, the oldest and the best known college of its kind in Canada, between Winnipeg and Vancouver.

Amendments to Homestead Regulations

The attention of intending homesteaders is directed to the amendments recently made to the Homestead Regulations, in part as follows:

1. Upon earning homestead patent, the pre-emption patent may also be obtained at once, upon payment for the land in full and showing that certain duties have been performed.
2. Theholders of pre-emption are relieved of interest until three years have elapsed from the date of the pre-emption entry.
3. No interest is chargeable now upon any instalment in connection with either a pre-emption or a purchased homestead until after such instalment falls due.
- To prevent disappointment, it should be clearly understood that, where parties have paid both principal and interest in full, they cannot get any refund.
4. With certain restrictions, stock may be substituted in lieu of cultivation.

GOOD REASON FOR HIS ENTHUSIASM

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea or other form of bowel complaint and is then cured and well by one of two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially in the case of a severe attack when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails. Sold by all dealers.

Robert Littleton, of Cowley, has been appointed a game guardian.

A public demonstration will be held in front of the town hall this evening to celebrate the victory of the British fleet in the North Sea.

It is expected that Italy is about to receive an ultimatum from Germany that will force her into combat against that country. England has sent 100,000 troops to Holland. It is reported that the troop ship, Varenland has been captured by the British. A large number of German merchantmen have been taken by the British and French fleets. Frank journeyed to Corbin on Saturday last to play the first round for the Mutt Cup. The line-up was changed some place on the way to Sloan being unable to play. The game was fast from the start and it soon appeared that Corbin would have to seriously reckon with, even before the game was over. Some real foot-balling was witnessed by both sides, Corbin doing the most passing. While Frank put the long passes in operation which evidently proved to their advantage. Frank scored first in twenty minutes. This score they maintained until the end of the game. The Frank boys were entertained to a big dance and supper, and the non-dancers to a shaker, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The boys cannot speak to highly of the Corbin boys who even enjoyed the Frank orchestra to play for the dance. This is the second time Frank and Corbin have met this season and they expect to have the pleasure of meeting again on the Frank course before the close of the season.
